BILL FOR THE DISASTER RISK MANAGEMENT ACT NO. OF 2018

Explanatory Note

The National Disaster Act [CAP 267] took legal effect on 20 November 2000, as the regulatory framework for disaster management in Vanuatu. Since its passage in Parliament, Vanuatu has been ranked the world's most disaster-prone country in an annual World Risk Report published by the United Nations University's Institute for Environment and Human Security (UNU-EHS). As a result, there has been major developments with regards to Disaster Risk Management and Disaster Risk Reduction in Vanuatu.

In 2013, the Council of Ministers created a new Ministry consisting of four Departments namely the Department of Energy, the Department of Environment, the Department of Meteorology and Geo-Hazards, and the Department of Disaster Management.

In 2015, the Vanuatu Climate Change and Disaster Risk Reduction Policy was launched and recommended the reviewing of the National Disaster Act and the enactment of a new Act.

The objectives of this Bill are:

- (a) to establish the necessary institutions and mandates for effective disaster risk management in Vanuatu, including an integrated approach to disaster risk reduction and climate change adaptation, disaster preparedness, response and recovery, at the national, provincial, and municipal level; and
- (b) to ensure the development and implementation of disaster risk management policies, strategies and plans at national, provincial and municipal levels; and
- (c) to support a whole-of-society approach to disaster risk management through education awareness, capacity building and training of elected officials, Government employees, the private sector, non-governmental organizations and communities that are also gender responsive and respectful of indigenous and traditional knowledge systems; and
- (d) to support a whole-of-government approach to disaster risk management, especially the integration of disaster risk reduction and climate change across the different sectors and through all levels of Government, through information-sharing, cooperation and joint planning, as appropriate; and
- (e) to govern the declaration of emergencies in disaster situations; and

- (f) to ensure disaster response operations are coordinated and effective; and
- (g) to facilitate the entry and coordination of international humanitarian assistance when required during disaster situations; and
- (h) to establish an Emergency Fund.

The Bill repeals the National Disaster Act [CAP 267].
